

MehXIV Rose Division: Empowering Women in Security

Professional female security. Greater representation. More choice for clients.

Introduction

MehXIV Security is a Middlesbrough-based security company providing professional security services across Teesside and the North East. Our Rose Division is dedicated to professional female security officers and creating greater opportunities for women within the security industry.

Our Purpose

- Empowerment: create meaningful opportunities for women to build experience and careers in security.
- Representation: strengthen female participation in a traditionally male-dominated industry.
- Client choice: provide female officers where a female security presence is preferred or operationally appropriate.
- Professional standards: deliver reliability, vigilance, communication and customer service.

Where Rose Division Adds Value

Rose Division can support events, educational settings, places of worship, residential environments, healthcare settings and customer-facing locations, alongside wider MehXIV Security operations.

ROSE DIVISION — PROFESSIONAL SECURITY. GREATER REPRESENTATION. NEW OPPORTUNITIES.

About MehXIV Security

MehXIV Security provides manned guarding, event security, construction site security, vacant property protection, mobile patrols, keyholding and emergency security cover. Our approach is built around professionalism, responsive service and strong local relationships.